

October 2019

IIB Photographers

We are excited that we will be able to include photography again in the district's March, 2020 flower show at the MSU Pavilion. The schedules will be distributed at our district meeting on October 15th. If you are unable to attend and would like to have one, please ask a friend to bring one home for you. It is also posted on the IIB website.

If you would like to enter a photograph for judging, you must contact the consultant who is listed in the schedule for the corresponding class. The title of the show is "Lost in a Good Book."

IIB Photographers will meet on October 28th, 1:30—3:30 pm, at Michigan Nature Association, 2310 Science Parkway, Okemos. The guest presenter will be Deb Drew Brown, an accomplished, local photographer whose work has been displayed in numerous locations around mid-Michigan. If you would like to be included, please contact Sue Wittick.

An I-Phone only photography class will be starting soon. We will start with the basics and continue to work through all the exciting options and features, with lots of tips, tricks, and practice along the way. If you are knowledgeable about android photography and willing to teach that, please let us know!

At our August meeting, one of the topics of discussion was photographing reflections. A challenge was issued and 13 members submitted their photos for popular vote. Congratulations to the top vote-getters who were Sue Wittick (Meridian Garden Club), Lynn Keelan (Howell Garden Club), and Joan Lenhard (Garden Club of Greater Lansing). Their photos are shown below.

In September we took our cameras to Harris Nature Center for a photo shoot. We enjoyed camaraderie as we looked for textures, insects, fungi and unusual perspectives.
